Hyaluronic acid

*A highly effective moisturizing complex, A combinación of high molecular,
low molecular,
cross - linked and liposomally cross - linked hyaluronic acid.*

Can also used for pigment disorders and neurodermatitis.

High molecular weight hyaluronic acid

*caused an immediate smoothies effect.
Molecular mass cannot penetrate deeply into the skin, but prevents water loss in the epidermis and smoothes our wrinkles due to dryness.*

Low molecular weight hyaluronic acid

*Retrains moisture for a longer period of time.
The hyaluronic acid is released into the skin with a time delay, creating a kind of depot function.
The skin is provided with particularly long-lasting Moisture and wrinkles are reduced.
Hyaluronic acid is hydrolycally broken down by hyaluronidases (enzymes) and independently produces new collagen and elastic fibers.*

Liposomally cross- linked hyaluronic acid is charatcerized by an exeptionally high water capacity and penetrates deeper layers of the skin through the liposome carrier system.

The skin is visibly padded from the inside

*Is pharmaceutical and is used for wrinkle injections.
The cross - linkes make the molecules more strongly connected to each other, which means that the hyaluronic acid is able to specifically fill in wrinkles, lines, acne scars or skin imperfections or make them appear less deep.*
